

THE MODULE «PHARMACIST- MANADGER»
SPECIALITY 5B110300 «PHARMACEUTICS»
BACHELOR DEGREE

THE DISCIPLINE 2 COURSE «ETHICAL-DEONTOLOGICAL ASPECTS OF COMMUNICATION IN THE SPHERE OF PHARMACEUTICAL CARE»

- 2 credit, 90 hours

«ETHICAL-DEONTOLOGICAL ASPECTS OF COMMUNICATION IN THE SPHERE OF PHARMACEUTICAL CARE»

RELEVANCE:

The pharmacist must provide pharmaceutical care to anyone, regardless of nationality, creed, age and social status.

Pharmaceutical custody of certain categories of patients.

Right and duty - to keep the professional independence and realize a measure of responsibility for their actions.

Formed competence:
knowledge
practical skills
communication skills
legal issues
self study

Course Description:

Pharmaceutical Ethics defines the relationship between pharmaceutical personnel, rules of its behavior in different situations pharmaceutical activities.

Pharmaceutical deontology principles of conduct studies pharmacy staff, aimed at maximizing the utility of the treatment and elimination of harmful consequences of defective medical work.

"Pharmaceutical care" includes a comprehensive program of interaction between the pharmacist and the patient during the entire period of drug therapy.

Prerequisites:

the history of pharmacy, medical and pharmaceutical goods management, inorganic, organic and analytical chemistry.

Postrequisites:

Organization of pharmaceutical business, management and economics of pharmacy, pharmacology, pharmacognosy, medicinal forms technology, pharmaceutical chemistry.

Thank you for attention!